

FAMILY HISTORY RESEARCH

Here a bit, there a bit Analyze and correlate Mix in tradition
But first check it against facts
I want to know everything and that takes a lot To find out what my ancestors were really like There's census records, court records, military records, vital records, land records, necrologies, county histories, and state histories
So many places to look Where does it end
One thing I have found makes me see that the more things change the more things stay the same
Its human nature
